EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

General context

One of the main aims of Horizon 2020, the Framework Programme for Research and Innovation covering the period 2014-2020, is to strengthen European industry through actions supporting research and innovation across a range of industrial sectors. In particular, it provides for the creation of public-private partnerships that will contribute to tackling some of the key challenges Europe is facing.

Bio-based industries in the EU could make a significant contribution to the objectives of the Europe 2020 Strategy, and its flagship initiatives "Innovation Union", "A Resource Efficient Europe" and "An Industrial Policy for the Globalisation Era". This has been recognised in several recent EU policy initiatives, such as the European Innovation Partnership for Agricultural Productivity and Sustainability¹, the Smart Specialisation Strategy for Member States and Regions² and the proposal for the 7th Environmental Action Programme. The Communication outlining the European Bioeconomy Strategy, adopted on 13 February 2012³ proposes the creation of a Public-Private Partnership (PPP) for bio-based industries (Bio-based PPP) as part of its Action Plan. The Commission Communication promoting a stronger European industry for growth and economic recovery⁴ reiterates the importance of setting up a Bio-based PPP in the form of a Joint Technology Initiative (JTI) in the context of the EU's industrial policy, which is also in line with the Commission Communication "Public-private partnerships, in Horizon 2020: a powerful tool to deliver on innovation and growth in Europe"⁵.

The Committee of the Regions has also underlined the important role of bio-based products and a bio-based society in Europe in its opinion on the European Bioeconomy Strategy end of November 2012⁶. In view of broader economic and social sustainability issues and of implications for consumers, the Commission is currently studying biofuels from a consumer perspective as a part of a broader study on the functioning of the fuels market⁷.

Reasons and objectives for a JTI in the area of bio-based industries

Bio-based industries are industries, which use renewable biological resources for the production of bio-based products and biofuels. Production usually takes place in biorefineries and often relies on bio-based processes. They give rise to new value chains, linking previously unrelated primary producers (and e.g. managers of organic waste) and industries, thus opening new opportunities for a wide range of established players. An increasing number of processing industries, such as the chemical, biofuels, pulp and paper, sugar and starch, and technology providers (in particular on industrial biotechnology and engineering) are interested in moving partially or entirely towards sustainable renewable bio-based resources and/or products.

⁷ The study (to be published by the end of 2013) explores whether consumers are able to make informed choices, by looking into consumer understanding and the transparency of information. It is expected to generate recommendations on improving and harmonising fuel labelling at the pump across EU Member States. The study also tackles the issue of the availability of different fuels and retailers, and retail prices.

The main focus of this JTI will be on the transformation of non-edible parts of plants (e.g. wood, agricultural and forestry residues) and biodegradable wastes into bio-based products and biofuels. The non-edible part of plants, also referred to as ligno-cellulosic material, is usually heterogeneous and contains a mix of different types of complex biomolecules (i.e. cellulose, hemi-cellulose and lignin). The technology required for transforming ligno-cellulosic material is considered "more advanced" compared to current technologies converting edible parts of plants, and is still being developed. The resulting products and processes are therefore called "advanced".

Bio-based industries are a cornerstone of the EU bioeconomy in generating growth and jobs. Although bio-based products and biofuels currently only represent about 3% of the EUR 2 trillion in annual turnover and 1% of the 22 million jobs generated by the European bioeconomy today⁸, bio-based industries are expected to grow more rapidly and substantially than more traditional bioeconomy sectors^{9,10}. Estimates from different sources consider that:

- The global revenue potential of the entire biomass value chain for biorefineries could exceed EUR 200 billion by 2020¹¹;
- The share of bio-based processes in all chemical production taken on its own is likely to increase from less than 2% in 2005 to 25% in 2025¹²;
- The volume growth of EU bio-based chemical products (including bio-plastics, bio-lubricants, bio-solvents, bio-surfactants and chemical feedstock) will be at 5.3% per year up to 2020, resulting in a market worth EUR 40 billion and 90,000 jobs within the bio-chemical industry alone¹³;
- Up to 75 billion litres of bioethanol could be sustainably produced at a competitive cost by 2020, which would represent about EUR 15 billion in additional revenue for the agricultural sector¹⁴.

To realise this potential and ensure the competitiveness of Europe's bio-based industries and their value chains in global markets, a number of hurdles need to be overcome:

- Biomass feedstock will need to be sourced in Europe in a sustainable way and without unintended negative consequences, such as loss of biodiversity, indirect land use change (ILUC) or negative effects for food security.
- Different players, including agriculture and forestry, industries and waste managers need to set-up cooperations along full value chains, with the aim of increasing resource-use efficiency by reducing the current fragmentation and isolation of these sectors.
- New processes need to be developed to separate, pre-treat and convert this feedstock into bio-based products and biofuels. A wide range of radically different technological options (e.g. enzyme based versus thermochemical processes) will need to be taken forward simultaneously in a strong and multi-faceted research effort to enhance process efficiency and optimise yield.
- Significant investment in up-scaling of technology and infrastructure is needed to assess the relative merits of radically different technology options and to identify winning option(s). This will mean upgrading existing bio-based industries (e.g. pulp and paper mills, biofuels, starch, chemical, etc.) and developing new and scalable integrated biorefinery models.

- The successful uptake of new bio-based products and bioenergy/fuels would require developing standards, labelling and certification systems and achieving customer acceptance. Product prices should appropriately reflect externalities and consumers should be able to make informed product choices, e.g. based on data on the benefits of these products over the full product lifecycle from cradle to grave.

The bio-based industry value chains (ranging from primary production, biorefineries, industrial users to consumer brands) are complex and so are the technological and innovation challenges that need to be overcome to unlock its socio-economic and environmental potential. Only a strong strategic vision, a well-structured and defined research and innovation agenda and a long-term stable financial commitment can bring together in one programme the different competences from across Europe to achieve the necessary breakthroughs and provide sufficient certainty and critical mass to leverage significant private investments.

The objectives of the proposed JTI on bio-based industries are to:

- Contribute to a more resource efficient and sustainable low-carbon economy and to increasing economic growth and employment, in particular in rural areas, by developing sustainable and competitive bio-based industries in Europe, based on advanced biorefineries that source their biomass sustainably; and in particular to:
- Demonstrate technologies that enable new chemical building blocks, new materials, and new consumer products from European biomass, which replace the need for fossil-based inputs;
- Develop business models that integrate economic actors along the value chain from supply of biomass to biorefinery plants to consumers of bio-based materials, chemicals and fuels, including through creating new cross-sector interconnections and supporting cross-industry clusters; and
- Set-up flagship biorefinery plants that deploy the technologies and business models for bio-based materials, chemicals and fuels and demonstrate cost and performance improvements to levels that are competitive with fossil-based alternatives.

Building on past experience

The EU has funded a wide range of projects that contribute to the advancement of bio-based industries over the past decades. The EU Framework Programmes for Research and Technological Development (FPs) cover almost 6% of total R&D investment of the EU and 15% of European publicly funded R&D financed in a cross-border collaborative manner. Under the FP7 Specific Programme on "Cooperation", Theme 2 "Food, Agriculture and Fisheries, Biotechnology" is currently financing 100 projects in the area of biotechnology with an EU contribution of about EUR 400 million.

In view of the multidisciplinary nature of biorefineries, DG RTD organised a Joint Call in 2008 on biorefineries involving four Themes of the "Cooperation" Programme (Theme 2, Theme 5, Theme 4 "Nanosciences, Nanotechnologies, Materials and New Production Technologies, and Theme 6 "Environment"). Three flagship collaborative projects (BIOCORE, EUROBIOREF and SUPRABIO) were selected for funding in 2009 with a combined EU contribution of about EUR 50 million.

The experience of the past years confirms that Europe has a strong research base in the area of bio-based industries with some successful biorefinery plant projects, both at EU level and at regional and national level.

Funding mechanisms applied at EU and regional level, in particular large and integrated biorefinery projects and regional bioeconomy clusters, are a step in the right direction by applying a value chain approach that covers research, demonstration and deployment activities and encourages cross-border collaboration. Yet, they have not succeeded in reaching a critical mass sufficient to overcome fragmentation and create integrated bio-based industry value chains in Europe. The impact of either funding mechanism could have been even better if they had been part of an integrated long-term vision for bio-based industries and if more support was given to demonstration and deployment activities.

2. RESULTS OF CONSULTATIONS WITH INTERESTED PARTIES AND IMPACT ASSESSMENTS

A wide range of sources were consulted in preparation of this JTI:

- A public consultation on the proposed Bio-based PPP took place from 21 September to 14 December 2012 and received 638 valid responses. 64.6% of responses came from the private sector, 24.6% from academia, 8.8% from the public sector and 2% from NGOs. Responses were received from 19 out of 27 Member States, with most replies coming from Poland, followed by the Netherlands, Germany, Spain, France, Belgium, Sweden, Finland, Italy, Austria, the UK, Romania, the Czech Republic, Portugal, Denmark, Ireland, Hungary, Greece and Slovakia. Almost all respondents (94.3%) called for EU intervention and 86.9% viewed a PPP as the most appropriate mechanism to implement the R&I programme for bio-based industries under Horizon 2020, and considered that it would have positive socio-economic impacts. Other key messages were the need to strengthen EU innovation, to improve competitiveness and to formulate clear intervention objectives for bio-based industries. The results from the consultation were presented and discussed at a stakeholder event on 9 January 2013 in Brussels, which was attended by 162 people. The full report of the online public consultation forms part of the Impact Assessment; it is planned to publish a printed version in June 2013.
- Several events organised in the framework of the Bioeconomy Strategy implementation allowed for regular and broad-based contacts with stakeholders during the preparation of the Impact Assessment. This included the conference "Partnering for the Bioeconomy in European Regions" of 12 October 2012, co-organised by DG RTD and the Committee of the Regions. During the conference, information on the potential of a Bio-based PPP was provided and examples of regional activities highlighted possible benefits of bioeconomy partnerships. DG REGIO specifically informed conference participants about the Smart Specialisation Strategy, being part of the rural development policy of the EU. It proposed focusing investments on the bioeconomy where appropriate.
- Several studies conducted in connection with the bioeconomy, bio-based products and biofuels were consulted.
- A group of ten external reviewers with expertise relevant to the different parts of the bio-based industries value chain was brought in to assist DG RTD with collecting and analysing the above data and preparing the Impact Assessment.

Impact Assessment

The proposed Regulation is supported by a Commission Impact Assessment, which is accompanying the proposal.

3. LEGAL ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSAL

Summary of the proposed action

This proposal concerns setting-up the Bio-based Industries Joint Undertaking (BBI JU) under Article 187 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU) for the implementation of the Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-based Industries (BBI JTI).

The BBI JU should be established for a period ending on 31 December 2024. It will have its seat in Brussels, Belgium.

It will be founded by the EU, represented by the European Commission, and the Biobased Industries Consortium (BIC). The activities of the BBI JU will be jointly funded by its founders. The Commission and BIC will contribute in equal parts to the running costs of the BBI JU. The research and demonstration activities will be funded through contributions by the BIC member companies with monetary and non-monetary resources (staff, equipment, consumables, etc.), and monetary resources from the EU. The level of EU resources will vary, in line with Horizon 2020 rules, depending on the type of activity considered.

The BBI JU will be open to new members, provided that they contribute with resources to the achievements of the objectives.

The Commission will be represented in the Governing Board in rights and votes as the industrial BIC members.

Legal basis

The legal basis of the proposal is Article 187 of the TFEU.

The Rules for Participation and Dissemination of Horizon 2020 will apply. However, given a specific operational need of this initiative, a derogation from these Rules is necessary. Nevertheless, this specific derogation is not included in the present proposal at this stage, in order not to prejudice the inter-institutional discussions concerning the appropriate legal basis/procedural modalities for their adoption, which are still pending in the context of the legislative works concerning the Commission proposal for a Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council laying down the Rules for Participation and dissemination in Horizon 2020 (COM(2011) 0810 - 2011/0399 (COD)). The specific derogation will be introduced at a later stage in view of the outcome of the abovementioned discussions.

The derogation will allow to limit, for actions other than innovation actions, the eligibility for funding to entities such as SMEs or secondary and higher education establishments whilst achieving at the same time the optimal level of leverage effect on private investment.

Subsidiarity and proportionality

The proposal concerns an area in which the EU does not have exclusive competence, which is why the principle of subsidiarity applies.

The policy objectives underlying the proposal can only be achieved through EU action for the following main reasons:

- (1) The transnational and complex nature of this large research and innovation challenge identified, which requires pooling complementary knowledge and financial resources across sectors and borders. No single Member State, company or stakeholder can resolve the problem by itself.
- (2) The coordination effort and the resources required are of such a large scale that they can only be credibly implemented at European level.

- (3) Given similar and competing initiatives underway or being launched in other leading economies (US, Brazil, China, Canada), only large-scale action implemented at European level is sufficiently attractive for industries to invest in Europe.

In accordance with the principle of proportionality, the provisions of this Regulation do not go beyond what is necessary to achieve the objectives.

Choice of instrument

The proposed Regulation will significantly boost public and private investment in research and innovation activities that aim to improve the competitiveness of European bio-based industries and create employment, in particular in rural areas. The BBI JU can leverage private resources with EU funds at a level that cannot be achieved with traditional instruments, which lack the strategic long-term approach regarding programming and financing. Every EUR 1 of EU funds will leverage EUR 2.8 of private funds during the operation of the Joint Undertaking.

4. BUDGETARY IMPLICATION

The total budget of the BBI JU will be EUR 2 000 million (including in cash and in kind contributions). In addition, the industry has committed to invest EUR 1 800 million in the establishment of large demonstration and flagship plants contributing to the objectives of this JTI.

The maximum contribution from the European Union (including EFTA) will be EUR 1 000 million¹⁵, paid from the Horizon 2020 budget.

The running costs of the BBI JU will be covered in equal parts by the EU and the BIC from the outset. The administrative costs shall not exceed EUR 60 million for the duration of the JU.

The research and demonstration activities implemented by the BBI JU and eligible for co-funding under Horizon 2020 will be jointly funded by the EU and BIC.

5. OPTIONAL ELEMENTS

Review

The EU will present an annual report on the progress made by the BBI JU and will perform a mid-term review by 31 December 2017. Discharge for the implementation of the EU contribution shall be part of the discharge given by the European Parliament, upon recommendation of the Council, to the Commission in accordance with the procedure provided for in Article 319 of the TFEU.

- (5) Europe 2020 Strategy²² underscores the need to develop favourable conditions for investment in knowledge and innovation so as to achieve smart, sustainable and inclusive growth in the Union. Both European Parliament and Council have endorsed this strategy.
- (6) The Bio-based Industries Consortium (hereinafter "BIC") developed a vision paper and a Strategic Innovation and Research Agenda, based on extensive consultation with public and private stakeholders. The Strategic Innovation and Research Agenda describes the main technological and innovation challenges that need to be overcome in order to develop sustainable and competitive bio-based industries in Europe and identifies research, demonstration and deployment activities to be carried out by a Joint Technology Initiative on "Bio-based Industries".
- (7) BIC is a non-profit organisation that was created to represent the industry group that supports the Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-based Industries. Its members cover the entire bio-based value chain and consist of large industries, small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), regional clusters, European trade associations, and European Technology Platforms. The aim of BIC is to ensure and promote the technological and economic development of the bio-based industries in Europe. Any interested stakeholders along the bio-based value chain may apply for membership. It applies general principles of openness and transparency regarding membership, ensuring a wide industrial involvement.
- (8) The Commission Communication of 13 February 2012 "Innovating for Sustainable Growth: A Bioeconomy for Europe"²³ and in particular its Action Plan calls for a public private partnership to support the establishment of sustainable and competitive bio-based industries and value chains in Europe. In view of moving towards a post-petroleum society, the Communication aims to integrate better biomass producing and processing sectors in order to reconcile food security and natural resource scarcity and environmental objectives with the use of biomass for industrial and energy purposes.
- (9) The Commission Communication of 10 October 2012 "A Stronger European Industry for Growth and Economic Recovery"²⁴ confirms the strategic importance of bio-based industries for the future competitiveness of Europe, as identified in the Commission Communication of 21 December 2007 "A lead market initiative for Europe"²⁵ and stresses the need for a Joint Technology Initiative on "Bio-based Industries".
- (10) Bio-based industries and their value chains are facing complex and substantial technology and innovation challenges. As a nascent sector, bio-based industries have to overcome the dispersion of technical competences and the limited publically available data on real resource availability in order to build sustainable and competitive value chains. In order to tackle these challenges, critical mass has to be achieved in a focused and coherent way at European level in terms of scale of activity, excellence, and potential for innovation.
- (11) The Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-based Industries should mitigate the different types of market failures that discourage private investment into pre-competitive research, demonstration and deployment activities for bio-based industries in Europe. In particular, it should ascertain the availability of reliable biomass supply taking into account other competing social and environmental demands, and support the development of advanced processing technologies, large scale demonstration activities and policy instruments, thus reducing the risk for private research and innovation investment in the development of sustainable and competitive bio-based products and biofuels.

- (12) The Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-based Industries should be a public-private partnership aiming at increasing investment in the development of a sustainable bio-based industry sector in Europe. It should provide environmental and socio-economic benefits for European citizens, increase the competitiveness of Europe and contribute to establishing Europe as a key player in research, demonstration and deployment of advanced bio-based products and biofuels.
- (13) The objective of the Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-based Industries is to implement a programme of research and innovation activities in Europe that will assess the availability of renewable biological resources that can be used for the production of bio-based materials and on that basis support the establishment of sustainable bio-based value chains. These activities should be carried out through collaboration between stakeholders along the entire bio-based value chains, including primary production and processing industries, consumer brands, SMEs, research and technology centres and universities.
- (14) The ambition and scope of the objectives of the Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-based Industries, the scale of the financial and technical resources that need to be mobilized, and the need to achieve effective coordination and synergy of resources and funding, require the involvement of the Union. Therefore a Joint Undertaking for the implementation of the Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-based Industries (hereinafter the BBI Joint Undertaking) should be established as a legal entity.
- (15) The objective of the BBI Joint Undertaking should be achieved through support of research and innovation activities by using resources from the public and private sectors. To this end, the BBI Joint Undertaking should organise calls for proposals for supporting research, demonstration and deployment activities.
- (16) To achieve maximum impact, the Bio-Based Industries Joint Undertaking should develop close synergies with other Union programmes in areas such as education, environment, competitiveness and SMEs, and with the Cohesion Policy funds and Rural Development Policy, which can specifically help to strengthen national and regional research and innovation capabilities in the context of smart specialisation strategies.
- (17) The founding members of the BBI Joint Undertaking should be the Union and BIC.
- (18) The rules for the organisation and operation of the BBI Joint Undertaking should be laid down in the Statutes of the BBI Joint Undertaking as part of this Regulation.
- (19) BIC has expressed, in writing, its agreement to pursue the research activities in the area of the BBI Joint Undertaking within a structure well adapted to the nature of a public-private partnership. It is appropriate that BIC accedes to the Statutes set out in Annex to this Regulation by signing a letter of endorsement.
- (20) In order to achieve its objectives, the BBI Joint Undertaking should provide financial support mainly in the form of grants to participants following open and competitive calls for proposals.
- (21) Contributions from the private Members should not only be limited to the administrative costs of the BBI Joint Undertaking and to the co-financing required to carry out research and innovation actions supported by the BBI Joint Undertaking.

- (22) Their contributions should also relate to additional activities to be undertaken by the private Members, as specified in an additional activities plan; in order to get a proper overview of the leverage effect those additional activities should represent contributions to the broader Joint Technology Initiative on Bio-Based Industries.
- (23) Participation in indirect actions funded by the BBI Joint Undertaking should comply with Regulation (EU) No ... /2013 of the European Parliament and of the Council of ... 2013 laying down the rules for participation and dissemination in "Horizon 2020 - the Framework Programme for Research and Innovation (2014-2020)"²⁶.
- (24) The Union financial contribution to the BBI Joint Undertaking should be managed in accordance with the principle of sound financial management and with the relevant rules on indirect management set out in Regulation (EU, Euratom) No 966/2012 and Commission delegated Regulation (EU) No 1268/2012 of 29 October 2012 on the rules of application of Regulation (EU, Euratom) No 966/2012²⁷.
- (25) Audits of recipients of Union funds under this Regulation should be carried out in such a manner that the administrative burden is reduced, in compliance with Regulation (EU) No .../2013 [the Horizon 2020 Framework Programme].
- (26) The financial interests of the Union and of the other members of the BBI Joint Undertaking should be protected through proportionate measures throughout the expenditure cycle including the prevention, detection and investigation of irregularities, the recovery of funds lost, wrongly paid or incorrectly used and, where appropriate, administrative and financial penalties in accordance with Regulation (EU, Euratom) No 966/2012.
- (27) The Commission's internal auditor should exercise the same powers over the BBI Joint Undertaking as those exercised in respect of the Commission.
- (28) In accordance with Article 287(1) of the Treaty, the constituent instrument of bodies, offices or agencies set up by the Union may preclude the examination of the accounts of all revenue and expenditure of those bodies, offices or agencies by the Court of Auditors. In accordance with Article 60(5) of Regulation (EU, Euratom) No 966/2012, the accounts of the bodies under Article 209 Regulation (EU, Euratom) No 966/2012 are to be examined by an independent audit body which is to give an opinion inter alia on the reliability of the accounts and the legality and regularity of the underlying transactions. Avoidance of duplication of the examination of the accounts justifies that the accounts of the BBI Joint Undertaking should not be subject to examination by the Court of Auditors.
- (29) In order to facilitate its establishment, the Commission should be responsible for the establishment and initial operation of the BBI Joint Undertaking until it has the operational capacity to implement its own budget.
- (30) In accordance with the principles of subsidiarity and proportionality as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union, the objectives of the BBI Joint Undertaking in strengthening industrial research and innovation across the Union cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States and can therefore, by reason of avoiding duplication, retaining critical mass and ensuring that public financing is used in an optimal way, be better achieved by the Union; this Regulation confines itself to the minimum required in order to achieve those objectives and does not go beyond what is necessary for that purpose.

1.4.3. Expected result(s) and impact

Specify the effects which the proposal/initiative should have on the beneficiaries/groups targeted.

A significant increase in private research investment with:

- Five new building blocks for the chemical industry by 2020
- Fifty new biobased materials by 2020
- Five flagship biorefinery plants by 2020

A shorter time to market with:

- Thirty new consumer products by 2020
- Ten new bio-based value chains by 2020
- A broad participation of SMEs

1.4.4. Indicators of results and impact

Specify the indicators for monitoring implementation of the proposal/initiative.

A set of quantitative and qualitative performance indicators (KPI, key performance indicators) will be established to follow the implementation of the BBI Joint Undertaking. These key performance indicators will measure the impact of the Joint Undertaking on EU competitiveness and the research environment for biobased and renewable industries. The quantitative indicators will be measured on a large scale in a comparative and systematic manner, while the qualitative approach will include case studies and technical audits. The key performance indicators should be assessed against the baseline of the state of affairs in the years prior to the start of the Joint Undertaking to help assess additionality effects during its lifetime.

The progress of the Joint Undertaking will be continuously monitored against a set of objectively verifiable indicators including:

- monitoring of public (EC and other) and private funding;
- follow-up of additionality;
- selection of projects and allocation of funding;
- technical monitoring against well-defined specific programme milestones;
- adherence to time schedule;
- quantified monitoring of market penetration in target sectors;
- level of SME participation and of participation from the newer Member States;
- sustainability indicators.

At mid-term, the Joint Undertaking will be evaluated by independent experts on behalf of the Commission. This evaluation will cover the quality and efficiency of the Joint Undertaking and its progress towards its objectives and make recommendations for any necessary re-adjustment of the programme and if applicable, consideration of an exit strategy.

1.5. Grounds for the proposal/initiative

1.5.1. Requirement(s) to be met in the short or long term

To set-up the Joint Undertaking as a new structure of Partnership between the Commission and Industry for research and innovation funding.

To organise competitive calls for proposals, evaluation and selection of projects where industry will co-fund the selected collaborative research projects.

To monitor and follow up financial and scientific aspects of projects having concluded a grant agreement with BBI Joint Undertaking.

To set-up and implement all procedures of the BBI Joint Undertaking including financial auditing.

To organise the dissemination and communication activities of the BBI Joint Undertaking.

To organise any other activity linked to the BBI Joint Undertaking.

1.5.2. Added value of EU involvement

A coordinated approach at EU level is also important for the development of bio-based industries, because the setting up of their value chains requires linking stakeholders in areas with strong agricultural and forestry sectors to stakeholders with a strong technological and industrial base. These may not be situated in the same Region or Member State, which can add further complications to an already complex scenario.

1.5.3. Lessons learned from similar experiences in the past

A number of small scale initiatives by Member States or Regions have recognised that the successful development of the bioeconomy is highly dependent on effective transnational cooperation. This is reflected in a growing number of collaborations between national and regional bioeconomy clusters, for example between IAR and Wagralim, or CLIB2021 and BE-BASIC. Although these collaborations between Regions and clusters look promising at first sight, they are also often affected by the differences in funding levels and financing rules.

1.5.4. Compatibility and possible synergy with other appropriate instruments

There may be compatibility in the orientations both in Horizon 2020 and in the Structural Funds, for supporting RTD activities -especially on innovation. The different new legal frameworks, programming mechanisms and approaches in terms of participation have to be considered. Synergies between funding actions in Horizon 2020 and funds of Member States and regions could be possible. Being the PPP a key enabler for bridging the Research and Innovation activities with the regional clusters organised under the Smart Specialisation Strategy it may be instrumental for facilitating combination of these sources of funding and increase efficiency of the action. Also synergies can be considered to access new financial instruments as the RSFF (Risk Sharing Funding Facility) of EIB, for the deployment.

1.6. Duration and financial impact

- Proposal/initiative of limited duration
- Proposal/initiative in effect from 01/01/2014 to 31/12/2024
- Financial impact from 01/01/2014 to 31/12/2020 for commitment appropriations
- Financial impact from 01/01/2014 to 31/12/2024 for payment appropriations
- Proposal/initiative of unlimited duration

Implementation with a start-up period from YYYY to YYYY,

Followed by full-scale operation.

1.7. Management mode(s) envisaged³⁶

- Direct management by the Commission through:
 - Executive agencies
 - Shared management with Member States:
- Indirect management by entrusting budget implementation tasks to:
 - International organisations and their agencies (please specify);
 - The European Investment Bank;
- bodies referred to in Article 209 FR;

 - Bodies governed by the private law of a Member State that are entrusted with the implementation of a public-private partnership and that provide adequate financial guarantees;
 - Persons entrusted with the implementation of specific actions in the CFSP pursuant to Title V of the TEU and identified in the relevant basic act.

³⁶ Details of management modes and references to the Financial Regulation may be found on the BudgWeb site: http://www.cc.cec/budg/man/budgmanag/budgmanag_en.html

2. MANAGEMENT MEASURES

2.1. Monitoring and reporting rules

Specify frequency and conditions.

The BBI Joint Undertaking will be monitored through intermediary contacts and as provided in Clauses 6 and 16 of the Statutes.

2.2. Management and control system

2.2.1. Internal control framework

The Commission through the Authorising Officer by Delegation will ensure that the rules applicable to the BBI JTI JU fully comply with the requirements of Article 60 and 61 of the Financial Regulation. Monitoring arrangements, including membership of the Governing board, of the BBI JTI JU and reporting arrangements will ensure that the Commission services can meet the accountability requirements both to the College and to the Budgetary Authority.

The internal control framework for the BBI JTI JU will be built on:

- the implementation of the Internal Control Standards offering at least equivalent guarantees to those of the Commission;
- procedures for selecting the best projects through independent evaluation, and for translating them into legal instruments;
- project and contract management throughout the lifetime of every project;
- ex-ante checks on 100% of claims, including receipt of audit certificates and ex-ante certification of cost methodologies;
- ex post audits on a sample of claims as part of the Horizon 2020 ex-post audits;
- and scientific evaluation of project results.

Various measures will be established to mitigate the inherent risk of conflict of interest within the BBI JTI JU, especially equal votes for the Commission and for industrial partners in the Governing Board, selection of the Director by the Governing Board based on a proposal by the Commission, independence of staff, evaluations by independent experts based on published selection criteria together with appeal mechanisms and full declarations of any interests. The establishment of ethical and organisational values will be one of the key roles of the JTI JU, and will be monitored by the Commission.

2.2.2. Costs and benefits of controls

The Commission's internal auditor shall exercise the same powers over the Joint Undertaking as those exercised in respect of the Commission. Moreover, the Governing Board may arrange, as appropriate, for the establishment of an internal audit capability of the Joint Undertaking. The Executive Director of the BBI JTI JU, as Authorising Officer, will be required to introduce a cost-effective system of internal control and management. He/she will be required to report to the Commission on the internal control framework adopted.

The Commission will monitor the risk of non-compliance through the reporting system that it will develop, as well as by following the results of ex post audits on the recipients of EU funds from the BBI JTI, as part of ex post audits covering the whole of the Horizon 2020.

The control system established will need to take account of the strong feeling, amongst the recipients of EU funds as well as amongst the legislative authority, that the control burden required to attain an error limit of 2% has become too great. This runs the risk of lowering the attractiveness of the Union's Research programme, and so negatively affecting Union research and innovation.

The European Council of February 4th 2011 concluded that 'it is crucial that EU instruments aimed at fostering R&D&I be simplified in order to facilitate their take-up by the best scientists and the most innovative companies, in particular by agreeing between the relevant institutions a new balance between trust and control and between risk taking and risk avoidance' (see EUCO 2/1/11 REV1, Brussels 8 March 2011).

The European Parliament, in its Resolution of 11 November 2010 (P7_TA(2010)0401) on simplifying the implementation of the Research Framework Programmes explicitly supports a higher risk of errors for research funding and "expresses its concern that the current system and the practice of FP7 management are excessively control-oriented, thus leading to waste of resources, lower participation and less attractive research landscapes; notes with concern that the current management system of 'zero risk tolerance' seems to avoid, rather than to manage, risks".

There is therefore an acceptance among stakeholders and Institutions that the whole range of objectives and interests, especially the success of the Research policy, international competitiveness and scientific excellence, should be considered, along with the error rate. At the same time, there is a clear need to manage the budget in an efficient and effective manner, and to prevent fraud and waste.

As stated above, the Commission will monitor the risk of non-compliance through the reporting system that it will establish, as well as by following the results of ex post audits on the recipients of EU funds from the BBI JTI JU, as part of the ex post audits covering the whole of the Horizon 2020.

2.2.3. Expected level of risk of non-compliance

As the Commission reported in the Legislative Financial Statement for Horizon 2020, it remains the ultimate objective to achieve a residual error rate of less than 2% of total expenditure over the lifetime of the programme, and to that end, it has introduced a number of simplification measures. However, the other objectives set out above as well as the costs of controls need to be considered.

As the rules of participation in the BBI JTI JU are basically the same as those that the Commission will use, and with a population of beneficiaries with a similar risk profile to those of the Commission, it can be expected that the level of error will be similar to that established by the Commission for Horizon 2020, i.e. to give reasonable assurance that the risk of error over the course of the multiannual expenditure period is, on an annual basis, within a range of 2-5 %, with the ultimate aim to achieve a residual level of error as close as possible to 2 % at the closure of the multi-annual programmes, once the financial impact of all audits, correction and recovery measures have been taken into account.

See the Legislative Financial Statement for Horizon 2020 for full details of the error rate expected with respect to participants.

2.3. Measures to prevent fraud and irregularities

The Commission will ensure that procedures to fight against fraud at all stages of the management process are applied by the BBI JTI JU. The proposals for Horizon 2020 have been subject to fraud proofing and an assessment of their impact. Overall the measures proposed should have a positive impact on the fight against fraud, especially the greater emphasis on risk based audit and reinforced scientific evaluation and control.

The Commission will ensure that appropriate measures are in place to ensure that, when actions financed under this Regulation are implemented, the financial interests of the Union are protected by the application of preventive measures against fraud, corruption and any other illegal activities, by effective checks and, if irregularities are detected, by the recovery of the amounts wrongly paid and, where appropriate, by effective, proportionate and deterrent penalties.

The Commission will ensure that cooperation with its services from the BBI JTI JU in matters relating to fraud and irregularity will and be strong.

The Court of Auditors shall have the power of audit, on the basis of documents and on-the-spot, over all grant beneficiaries, contractors and subcontractors who have received Union funds under the Programme.

The European Anti-fraud Office (OLAF) may carry out on-the-spot checks and inspections on economic operators concerned directly or indirectly by such funding in accordance with the procedures laid down in Regulation (Euratom, EC) No 2185/96 with a view to establishing whether there has been fraud, corruption or any other illegal activity affecting the financial interests of the Union in connection with a grant agreement or grant decision or a contract concerning Union funding.
